INTRODUCTION

NG 000 (05/14) Introduction

(05/14) General

1 (05/14) The Notes for Guidance on the Specification for Highway Works are published as Volume 2 of the Manual of Contract Documents for Highway Works and divided into Series corresponding to those in the Specification. The NG Clauses directly relate to Clauses in the Specification, however not all Specification Clauses have corresponding NG Clauses. Guidance on the Lettered Appendices is given in Clause NG 003.

2 (05/14) Throughout the Notes for Guidance the term “compiler” has been used to refer to the individual or organisation responsible for the preparation of Contract-specific information and requirements.

(05/14) Incorporation of the Specification into the Contract

3 (05/14) The Specification for Highway Works (SHW) will be incorporated into a contract by reference. It will be supplemented by contract specific specification which will need to be prepared by the compiler. It is not necessary to reproduce the SHW in whole or part. The contract specific specification will consist of the Numbered Appendices.

The Contract will require a Preamble to the Specification. A standard Preamble to the Specification is included in this Series. This references the SHW and allows for the inclusion of definitions of specific roles and responsibilities as discussed below. The standard Preamble to the Specification text should be reproduced unaltered, except for the inclusion of information as indicated, and bound in the Contract documents with the contract specific Numbered Appendices.

The SHW has been drafted to allow its use with a wide range of procurement methods and forms of contract. The use of terms specific to any particular form of contract have thus been avoided and in particular no references to approvals and/or directions by parties specific to a particular form of contract are included.

Directions or approvals that are used refer to the Overseeing Organisation. This term will need defining in each particular Contract to suit the specific roles and responsibilities of the parties to the Contract and the responsibilities of the parties involved in the construction, maintenance and operation of the Works. The Preamble to the Specification contains statements which should be used to ascribe the roles and functions of the Overseeing Organisation to particular parties to the Contract.

4 (05/14) The Contract will also require the incorporation of a Schedule of Pages and Relevant Publication Dates listing the publication date of each page of the SHW applicable to the Contract. The current Schedule of Pages and Relevant Publication Dates is included in Series 000 of the SHW. It should be bound into the Contract documents following the Preamble to the Specification with the contract specific Numbered Appendices.

In summary the contract specification must therefore consist of the following:

- | | |
|--|--|
| • Preamble to the Specification | Using the standard Preamble given in this series. |
| • SHW | Brought in by reference in the Preamble to the Specification. |
| • Schedule of Pages and Relevant Publication Dates | Using the schedule included in SHW Series 000 applicable to the contract. |
| • Contract Specific Numbered Appendices | Using the NG Sample Contract Specific Numbered Appendices as applicable to the contract. (These are required to be listed in contract specific Appendix 0/3 as described below.) |

(05/14) Proprietary Work, Goods or Materials

5 (05/14) Proprietary work, goods or materials must not be specified unless their function cannot be described in any other way using specifications which are sufficiently precise and easily understood. Where the specification of proprietary work, goods or materials cannot be avoided, European law requires that the brand name or type be followed by the words ‘or equivalent’, reference should also be made to Clause 104. Contractors may propose equivalent work, goods or materials and where these are assessed as equivalent they should be permitted for use in the works. Guidance on the assessment of equivalence is given in Clause NG 104. Where products are covered by the Construction Products Regulation (EU) No. 305/2011 (CPR) these must be described in terms of their essential characteristics as defined by CPR and the relevant harmonised standard, or an ETA, without the use of brand names or types.

(05/14) Use of the Specification for Highway Works

6 (05/14) The use of the SHW is mandatory for contracts involving works to trunk roads, including motorways, in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland where the Contract client and/or the Overseeing Organisation is the Highways Agency, Transport Scotland, the Welsh Government or the Department for Regional Development, a department of the Northern Ireland Executive. (In Northern Ireland, the documents will be applicable to those roads designated by the Overseeing Organisation).

7 (05/14) The SHW has been widely drawn to cover all highway contracts from the provision of new to the improvement, reconstruction and maintenance of existing roads and bridges. It also covers such schemes as the installation of road lighting, traffic signals or other traffic signing schemes on existing highways.

8 (05/14) The contract specific specification details required to be included in the contract specific Numbered Appendices are identified in one of two ways:

- (i) Specific requirements referred to in the national requirements, i.e. contract specific requirements directly referred to in the SHW Clauses:

These are generally indicated in the Specification Clauses by the words “as described/stated in Appendix -/-”.

- (ii) Alternatives to national requirements i.e. where the SHW Clauses give options for different requirements to be stated:

These are generally indicated in the Clauses by the words “unless otherwise described in Appendix -/-”.

9 (05/14) The SHW should be used as it stands wherever possible but when alterations to Clauses, Tables or Figures are considered necessary these are Departures from Standard and shall be agreed with the Overseeing Organisation. Refer to GD 01 ‘Introduction to the Design Manual for Roads and Bridges’ (DMRB 0.1.2) for details of the Overseeing Organisations’ requirements regarding Departures from Standards. Such alterations will need to be submitted to the Overseeing Organisation in good time with justification and identification of changes to existing text, in drafts of contract specific Appendices 0/1 and 0/2 prepared in accordance with the requirements set out below for incorporation in the Contract. Under no circumstances should replacement pages be produced to incorporate contract specific alterations. Contract specific Numbered Appendices, other than Appendices 0/1 and 0/2, must not be used for alterations, see sub-Clause NG 003.6.

10 (05/14) The information contained in the contract specific Numbered Appendices 0/1 to 0/5 and 1/1 onwards should be bound either in one volume or more as appropriate. Each volume should be clearly titled as to the content.

11 (05/14) The compiler’s attention is drawn to the requirements of the Construction (Design and Management) Regulations and in particular the need for pre-construction health and safety information to be prepared and provided at the same time as the tender documents. In particular the compiler should ensure consistency between information referred to in the above health and safety information and the detailed information included in contract specific Appendices to the Specification. Contract specific Appendices likely to be referred to, include but are not confined to:

- Appendix 1/7 Site extent and limits of use
- Appendix 1/9 Control of noise and vibration
- Appendix 1/13 Programme of works
- Appendix 1/16 Privately and publicly owned services and supplies
- Appendix 1/17 Traffic safety and management
- Appendix 1/18 Temporary highways for traffic
- Appendix 1/19 Routeing of vehicles
- Appendix 1/23 Risks to health and safety

NG 002 (05/14) Terms and Abbreviations

- 1 (05/14) Terms and abbreviations used in Additional, and Substitute Clauses and in minor alterations made by 'delete and insert' methods must be consistent with those described in Clause 002 and those used in the relevant parts of the Specification.
- 2 (05/14) The Specification is based on the Highways Agency (HA) requirements and where possible those of the Transport Scotland (TS), the Welsh Government (WG) and the Department for Regional Development, a department of the Northern Ireland Executive (DRDNI). The Standards issued by HA, TS, WG or DRDNI, and forming part of Volume 0 of the Manual of Contract Documents for Highway Works, give implementing and other instructions on the use of the Specification and related procedures within their geographical areas. In addition, the Standards issued by TS, WG or DRDNI, will contain any special national alterations to be included in contract specific Appendix 0/5.

NG 003 (05/14) Appendices

(05/14) Lettered Appendices

- 1 (05/14) All lettered Appendices are national requirements and are intended to be used without alteration, except for Appendix F (see sub-Clause 3).
- 2 (05/14) Appendices A to F comprise lists of quality management schemes, product certification schemes, other approval information, and publications referred to in the Specification. Appendix H contains requirements relating to Quality Records.
- 3 (05/14) Appendix F lists all the normative and informative publications referred to in the Specification. When Additional, Substitute or minor alterations to Clauses are required, or references to publications are made in the contract specific Numbered Appendices, the list of publications contained in Appendix F is to be checked. Any resulting additional publications are to be included in contract specific Appendix 0/2 (see below).

(05/14) Contract Specific Numbered Appendices - General

- 4 (05/14) The contract specific Numbered Appendices to the Specification are to be drawn up for the Contract by the compiler and included in the documents. Cross reference should be made in the contract specific Numbered Appendix to the corresponding relevant drawing number(s) as appropriate.
- 5 (05/14) The contract specific Numbered Appendices are to be compiled using advice given in the Notes for Guidance Clauses and in the NG Sample Contract Specific Appendices given at the end of each Notes for Guidance Series. Their content should be agreed with the Overseeing Organisation. Some contract specific Numbered Appendices are to be completed by the Tenderer or the Contractor.
- 6 (05/14) The contract specific Numbered Appendices 1/1 onwards should only be used to extend the information in Specification Clauses, Tables or Figures and NOT to change them, they must not be used to alter the SHW Clauses. Where the Contract requires new methods or special requirements these are Departures from Standard and should only be introduced by Additional or Substitute Clauses as described in sub-Clause NG 000.9 above in contract specific Appendix 0/1 or by minor alterations in contract specific Appendix 0/2.

7 (05/14) New contract specific Numbered Appendices can be used to extend contract specific alterations included in contract specific Appendices 0/1 and 0/2, but see NG Sample Contract Specific Appendix 0/3 regarding numbering of additional contract specific Numbered Appendices.

(05/14) Contract Specific Numbered Appendices - 0/1 to 0/5

8 (05/14) The 'Zero' Series of contract specific Numbered Appendices(0/1 to 0/5) should be compiled in accordance with the Samples following and as explained below.

9 (05/14) The contract specific alterations to the Specification for Highway Works (having prior approval, see sub-Clause NG 000.9 above) should be described in contract specific Appendices 0/1 and 0/2 taking account of the following:

- (i) Requirements relating to Clauses equally apply to Tables and Figures.
- (ii) Care should be taken to ensure compatibility between Clauses and any associated Tables and Figures which are altered.
- (iii) Text which duplicates the provisions of the Conditions of Contract is to be avoided.

10 (05/14) Contract specific Appendix 0/1 is for incorporation of contract specific alterations to the Specification for Highway Works as follows:

- (i) Additional Clause - written in Appendix 0/1 with suffix 'AR' added to the Clause number.
- (ii) Substitute Clause - rewritten in Appendix 0/1 in full with existing Clause number and with suffix 'SR'.
- (iii) Cancelled Clause - Clause number with suffix 'CR' followed by its title written in Appendix 0/1, with the word 'Cancelled' alongside it.

If there are no Additional, Substitute or Cancelled Clauses to be included in the Contract write 'NONE' in Appendix 0/1.

11 (05/14) Contract specific Appendix 0/2 is for incorporation of contract specific minor alterations to existing Clauses, Tables and Figures and any alterations to Appendix F. These can be described by the 'delete and insert' or 'add new sub-clause' procedure, provided they are neither extensive nor confusing. The Clause is not then a Substitute Clause and there is no need to add a suffix. These alterations are Departures from Standard and must be treated as described in sub-Clause NG 000.9 above. The instructions for these minor alterations are to be written in Appendix 0/2. If there are no minor alterations to be included in the Contract write 'NONE'.

12 (05/14) Contract specific Appendix 0/3 is to comprise a complete list of the contract specific Numbered Appendices included in the Contract. List A contains those referred to in the national Specification and List B contains any additional Numbered Appendices devised by the compiler associated with alterations included in contract specific Appendices 0/1 and 0/2. Those to be completed by the Tenderer/Contractor must be identified and blanks of 'pro-formas', copied from the Notes for Guidance, are to be included as appropriate. Table NG 0/1 gives a list of the contract specific Numbered Appendices referred to in the Specification for Highway Works and lists who should compile each Appendix.

13 (05/14) Contract specific Appendix 0/4 is to list the Drawings in the Contract (including those from the HCD, which is published as Volume 3 of the Manual of Contract Documents for Highway Works).

14 (05/14) Contract specific Appendix 0/5 is to include special National Alterations of the Overseeing Organisation of Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland.

NG 004 (05/14) Normative and Informative Reference Documents

1 (05/14) The SHW uses British, European, International and other standards as reference documents. The compiler should identify a Contract Reference Document Date and state this in the Contract documentation, this is provided for in the Preamble to the Specification (see sub-Clause NG 000.3). The edition of each reference document relevant to the Contract would be the publication current at this date unless the Specification states otherwise. If a date is not given in the Preambles to the Specification the default date would be the tender invitation date.

- 2 (05/14) Any alterations to the text of SHW and NG Clauses required as a result of the publication of new Harmonised European Standards, European Standards, British Standards or amendments to Standards will be drawn up by the Overseeing Organisations and published at appropriate intervals.
- 3 (05/14) The compiler should ascertain whether any amendments or new editions of the reference documents have been issued since the last published national alteration to the SHW and where appropriate include contract specific alterations in Appendix 0/1 or 0/2 (see sub-Clause NG 000.9).
- 4 (05/14) The compiler should ensure that there are no inconsistencies between the reference documents specified in the Contract and those used in the design. Where necessary, contract specific alterations should be included in contract specific Appendix 0/1 or 0/2 to achieve consistency. Such alterations would be Departures from Standard and must be treated as such at the design stage and also, if necessary, at compilation of contract documents (see sub-Clause NG 000.9). Amendments to Harmonised European Standards are not permitted.
- 5 (05/14) The Overseeing Organisation, with or without the assistance of the compiler, should consider whether reference document amendments published after the Contract has been awarded should be incorporated unless the Contract already allows for this. Amendments, such as those issued by BSI making editorial changes to British Standards, will often have negligible cost implications and should usually be adopted.
- 6 (05/14) Standards, and other publications, referred to in the Notes for Guidance are listed in Annex 1.

NG 005 (05/14) Thickness of Material and Tolerances

1 (05/14) It is not considered necessary or desirable to specify tolerances for all dimensions. Where dictated by functional or aesthetic need, tolerances are included in the Specification for Highway Works. Other tolerances are incorporated by reference to Standards and other publications. If the compiler requires further tolerances to apply these should be given on the Drawings. Unnecessarily fine tolerances have the effect of increasing prices and should be avoided.

Key & Guide to types of contract specific Numbered Appendices - who compiles/completes

Numbered Appendix to be compiled and/or completed by:

- (Co) Compiler compiles: Identified in the Notes for Guidance examples by the term 'Sample' included in their title
- (Co/C) Compiler partially compiles and Contractor completes and returns to Overseeing Organisation
- (Co/T) Compiler partially compiles and Tenderer completes and returns with Tender
- (C) Contractor completes and returns to Overseeing Organisation
